Your child is never too old for you to help.

It is painful to watch and accept – the child you nurtured from birth appears to be on a path of self-destruction from drug or alcohol addiction. And you feel uncomfortable with the idea of talking about it. Especially now that your child is an adult and can make his or her own decisions. But they need you to speak up because you can make a difference. And we can help.

Our licensed substance use experts will:

- Advise you on how to talk with your child about getting help
- Arrange a face-to-face evaluation by a licensed clinician who will create a personalized care strategy for your child
- Assign your family with a dedicated licensed Care Advocate who will provide support for up to six months after treatment
